4/3/75

Dear Harold,

As of now there's no reason why we shouldn't be able to get there on the 21st. My finals are over on the 18th but Mary Pat has a paper which is due on the 21st or 22nd. I promised her that I would help her type it so she could hand it in on the morning of the 21st and we could leave for your place.

It sounded kind of strange to me that the symposium would be held during the week. I had read an article on the one in Boston and remembered that it had been on a week-end. It's great that there are people in positions of power and influence becoming involved. For the first time I feel there's a real possibility of the investigation being re-opened. I wish the Bar Association of Pittsburgh would hold a symposium. When we had a lecture here on the JFK assassination no body expected much of a turnout. After turning away a few hundred people, we still had about 1000 people in an auditorium that held 700, and that was before Gregory started stirring everyone up. I'm sure that if we had a symposium here it would be packed.

In case your schedule changes at the last minute, here's my number (412) 462-4175.

Karen
